

SUPPLY CHAIN, CUSTOMER & BANKING CREDIT RISK ANALYSIS

Data, Analytics and Tools to Manage Risk

When it comes to counterparty credit risk, it's a complicated world. A slow economy, increasing global exposures and rising credit volatility have changed the game. That's why corporations turn to our comprehensive data, in-depth research and robust analysis to support their credit risk assessments of banks, customers and suppliers.

UNDERSTAND EXPOSURE

Thoroughly Analyze Counterparties

- Access detailed credit ratings and research from Standard & Poor's Ratings Services aggregated by sector and industry, including credit-adjusted financial statement data and key ratios for rated corporate and bank entities
- Easily assess the long-term creditworthiness of unrated public and private companies with quantitatively-derived credit scores and run scenarios to assess the impact of changes in financial performance
- Compare your own proprietary data with S&P Capital IQ financial data side-by-side on the platform and generate credit risk assessments using our financials-based credit models and scoring templates
- Benchmark relative financials of similar counterparties with one of the largest data sets of company financial information, including core and analytically-enhanced data, where all private company financials are standardized for full comparison against public company financials and market data
- Review hierarchies of related corporate entities to fully understand the corporate tree, ownership and potential vulnerabilities in the case of a negative event
- Dig deep into potential problems and understand their origins with our PD Model Fundamentals that provides two PDs for each company—one for financial risk and one for business risk—that are then rolled into a single PD to reflect a company's overall creditworthiness

MONITOR CREDIT RISK

Avoid Being Caught by Surprise

- Get early-warning signals of a potential company default with short-term credit risk indicators, including equity price-based Market Signal PDs and Standard & Poor's Ratings Services CDS-based Market Derived Signals for a sense of the market's sentiment about a firm at any point in time
- Build targeted email alerts for companies of interest, delivering news, key developments and rating changes as well as reorganizations, management changes, new financings and bankruptcies to your inbox
- Automate your surveillance process with a holistic view of the credit risk in your portfolio of counterparties and set alerts to identify potentially troublesome companies by utilizing the Excel Plug-In to combine fundamental data and quantitative credit risk measures into one single application
- Evaluate financial performance relative to a peer group to pinpoint potential problems
