

Royal Voluntary Service is a highly regarded national charity founded 79 years ago by Lady Reading, originally set up to provide volunteer service within communities to tackle the biggest societal challenges of the day. Our charity currently has two key areas of strategic purpose:

- Supporting voluntary service in communities across Britain, to focus on providing services to more than 100,000 older people each month so that they can live the life they want to live and remain connected to their local community.
- Providing food, drink and comfort to patients, visitors and staff within the NHS through our extensive range of cafés, coffee shops, hospital trolleys and pop up shops.

Royal Voluntary Service has 25,000 dedicated volunteers, supported by 1,300 employees who focus on building community resilience in a sustainable way. With a turnover of over £64 million the organisation plays an essential role within hundreds of local communities and hospitals across Britain.

This a time of great opportunity for the charity to redefine and reaffirm its position as an indispensable provider of frontline and voluntary service across the country.

Our charity is seeking to appoint a trustee with a background in:

- financial management, with relevant qualifications and ideally with recent experience in a large charity

You will have operated at Board level in a large-scale organisation, ideally with an understanding of frontline service delivery. With a brand that enjoys respect, trust and affection, this role represents an opportunity for you to make a real difference to Britain's communities. These are challenging times for our society and fulfilling this role will require passion and strong leadership skills to ensure that our charity continues to deliver and evolve to meet the needs of our population. We look forward to hearing from you.

For further information contact Julia Oliver or James Bailey Johnson on 0207 529 1079 or visit our website: www.odgers.com/63760.